

SOCIETY OF CAMERA OPERATORS

SOC Members,

Our partner organization, Association of Camera Operators, based in the UK, have announced their new President – Sean Savage.

Sean was nominated in 2017 for Camera Operator of the Year for his work on Game of Thrones and is Active member with the SOC. We look forward to Sean's leadership in elevating the position of camera operator internationally and our continued relationship between the SOC and ACO.

Sincerely,
George Billinger, SOC
President, Society of Camera Operators

Dear SOC members,

We would like to inform you that the ACO Board and its Full members have decided to appoint Sean Savage as the new president of the ACO.

Sean has gained international recognition for his work on Game of Thrones and many other memorable projects, he is a Camera Operator of the highest order and is eager to promote the Art of Camera Operating on behalf of the ACO and its many friends.

We would also like to sincerely thank Ben Wilson for all his hard work as our previous President, and who is now standing down in his role.

Please join with me in welcoming Sean as our new President.

Sincerely and on behalf of the ACO Board.

Peter Cavaciuti
